Analysis

Isidore stirred up much of the eastern Gulf Coast. A larger area of potential bloom is still identified in the Florida Panhandle region. Field data reports bloom around Cape St. Joe, it is likely that some westward spread has occurred along the Florida Panhandle.

The major diatom bloom along the south Texas coast is continuing.

--Stumpf